

Collaboration for Environmental Evidence

September 2010

JOIN THE COLLABORATION!

The CEE is an open collaboration and its activity and impact is dependent on a motivated group who support the key mission of developing an evidence base to enable more effective environmental management. There are no membership fees or eligibility criteria.

Why Join the CEE?

To show your support for what the CEE does. Just adding your support means a lot as the number of supporters is a measure of our significance as an organisation.

To actively participate in CEE work. There are many participatory roles to play from commenting on protocols and reviews to taking a lead in review group, editorial or governance work.

To conduct a systematic review and help CEE library grow into an ever more valuable resource for decision makers and wider society.

Benefits of joining the collaboration

Networking with a dedicated group of scientists, managers and policy formers who wish to form an evidence base for environmental management.

Mail alerts and updates on activities in the CEE, including meetings and events.

Opportunities to join Review Teams and Methodology Groups working at the cutting edge of evidence-based practice.

Opportunities to attend training courses and workshops to develop your skills in evidence-based practice and systematic review methodology.

---

To join the CEE simply send your name and contact details in an email to CEE.join@environmentalevidence.org